

GRADUATE SCHOOL OF eLEARNING (GSeL)

Master of Science
Information Technology and ManagementProgram Background

Master of Science in Information Technology and Management (M.S.ITM) program is offered by Graduate School of eLearning, Assumption University of Thailand. Instructors, lecturers and students can access through SCITPlus, a web-based Learning Management System (LMS) and assignments could also be accessed through this system.

Students can study anywhere and anytime, not within the confines of classrooms and class schedules. Some contents can be downloaded, saved and viewed later, giving room for offline study.

Classroom-based tutoring and lecture sessions are sometimes organized to supplement the learning mode of study. The study system of SCITPlus is proven to be effective and user-friendly for all our students.

M.S.ITM curriculum is revised from an accredited M.S.ICT (by the Ministry of Education of Thailand) and approved by the university council.

The M.S.ITM program is operated using the same standard as traditional classroom. The degree obtained is equivalent to a degree obtained through traditional classroom.

Program Overview

M.S.ITM is designed to equip its graduates with not only firm foundation in information technology including the breadth and depth knowledge of recent development in the field, but also creative thinking and analytical skills that entrepreneurs need to effectively manage their operations.
